

Dr. Brendan McCormack

Speaker Spotlight

Professor Brendan McCormack's research focuses on person-centredness. He is passionate about the idea of moving from person-centered care to person-centred cultures, by examining system-approaches to person-centred care. His work helps leaders build workplace cultures where everyone flourishes, including staff and clients/residents.

In addition to his position as Dean at the University of Sydney, Dr. McCormack is also Extraordinary Professor, University of Pretoria, South Africa; Professor of Nursing, Maribor University, Slovenia; Visiting Professor, Ulster University; and Adjunct Professor, Zealand University Hospital/University of Southern Denmark.

Join us on May 31 and June 1 to learn about the development of person-centred cultures, practices, and processes from inspiring speakers such as Dr. McCormack, who will lead us in engaging and transformative conversations about the future of aging.
